Description

This activity takes the form of a card game. The game was designed by one of our volunteers during confinement related to Covid19 epidemic. It also can be played at home, alone and with some material. There is no restrictions for weather conditions.

The aim is to be connect to the environment in which we find ourselves, whether it is urban, or wilder, and all of this through our five senses.

This tool is a shaping of experiences designed by authors like Michel Acton Smith, or some animators, actors of nature education such as Louis Espinassous, Hervé Brugnot, student eco-interpreters or by the British organization National Trust "50 things to do before you're 12".

Download the game HERE and start setting it up with your students! Share photos, videos and "feedback cards" provided on the social network HERE.
